An Aurora snowmobiler who police say deliberately ran his wife down with a snowmobile, breaking her leg in three places, was last week ordered held without bail for psychiatric examination.

Charged with criminal negligence and assault with intent to wound is Albert A. Townsend, age 39.

In York County Memorial Hospital at Newmarket is his wife Phyllis, 38, with fractures to the left leg and ankle.

According to police the incident occurred on MacDonald Lake in the Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve near where the Townsends camp at a trailer site.

Mr. Townsend's snowmobile had just become mired in slush on the lake while snowmobiling with his wife, three sons and a friend of the family.

When son Anthony, 20, of Aurora and Mrs. Townsend came to his father's aid, Mr. Townsend in apparent disgust and rage at his predicament jumped on his son's machine and sped off, his wife an unwilling passenger.

Police said that when Mrs. Townsend fell off the speeding snowmobile her husband swung the machine around in a wide circle and ran her down, then raced off across the lake with son Anthony in hot pursuit on the other now freed and running snowmobile.

The chase ended a short distance down the lake when the son caught up to his father and rammed his machine.

Damage to the two snowmobiles amounted to some $300.

The incident was apparently the culmination of a series of problems and misfortunes for Mr. Townsend. A foreman for many years with MacLean Hunter in Toronto, Mr. Townsend and the six men who worked under him were recently fired to make way for automation. Finally he had obtained work - for a

Minden Council 1977 inaugural meeting

Anson, Hindon and Minden council held its inaugural meeting for 1977 last Monday and it turned out to be not only a time to review council's accomplishments over the past year but the ideal moment to express some New Year's resolutions as well.

In 1976 Council was able to finalize plans for Minden's water & sewerage programs and managed to arrange and hold a joint meeting with the representatives from all concerned in order to arrive at joint plans to work together during ditching and installation in highway areas.

Council also made plans in 1976 for improved ambulance service and was able to secure a new ambulance for Minden. It arranged for, and constructed a new fire hall while work was also done on Bobcaygeon road north in order to remove a serious danger hazard on the road.

Other accomplishments included correcting dangerous conditions on the road surface of Sunny Brook bridge in Minden and widening the road surface of the bridge by reducing the sidewalk width by two feet.

by two feet, revision of the Township Zoning By-Law to create a place called an Industrial Zone for industrial development; and increasing radio contact with township vehicles and fire trucks in order to provide better contact and control. Looking of the New Year, council hopes to complete the fire hall and improve

Court sittings increase

Minden Provincial Court will increase its regular sittings by a whopping 71 percent this year.

This was revealed last Monday as Minden Council authorized a lease agreement renewal for the use in 1977 of the Minden Municipal Council Chambers for court purposes.

Court will sit regularly on 60 separate occasions during 1977, an increase of 25 sittings over the 1976 figure of 35 sittings.

Any special court sessions held during the year will be over and above the figure of 60, council learned.

The dramatic increase in local court day requirements reflects the upsurge in both traffic and criminal prosecutions over the past few years.

Retail-wholesale store

Plans for a new retail-wholesale store in Minden proposed by Albert and Gordon Yakely are being kept well-hidden pending completion of a special re-zoning application.

In fact, all council really learned Monday when the two brothers appeared before it was that they planned to convert the old laundromat on South Water Street into some sort of retail-wholesale operation. The two men applied to have the property re-zoned to General Commercial A following their purchase of it from former laundromat owner-operator Frank Mc Kelvey who closed out his operation more than a year ago.

Council approved the re-zoning application which will become final in from three to four months.

Secretary-Manager

A belated Happy New Year to all of you. We had intended to extend that wish to you last week but we hadn't allowed for the fact that the newspapers were not publishing then.

To start off the new year we are pleased to welcome some newcomers to our business community. Jack and Ann Mawbey and Ray and Shirley Barrett have reopened the Restaurant in West Guilford and have called it "Happy Jack's Restaurant". They are open every night till 11:00 P.M. which is good news for those looking for a place to eat in the evening. Jack Ireland and Jack White have, along with Wendy and Donna formed a company called "Pair O' Jacks" and purchased the Oakview Lodge at Hawk Lake. They have acquired a Mercury dealership for the Marina and have extensive plans for the lodge. Please do make these new folks feel at home in their new businesses.

Nancy Brink is not a newcomer anymore. She opened Nancy's Flowers in Haliburton over a year ago and we have neglected to welcome her until now. We are pleased to see Nancy doing so well, and we are sure things will be even better now that she is a Chamber member also.

Another new member of the Chamber is Peterborough Bedding and Upholstery Company in Peterborough who manufacture and re-build bed chesterfields, box springs mattresses and davenport. They can be of considerable service to many of our members and in particular resort operators. You may reach Bill Capell at 745-6164.

Cross country skiers invaded Haliburton over the holidays. They were everywhere and enjoying themselves immensely. There were a number of very good compliments on the quality of trails provided by our local club and the Kashagawigamog Assoc., although trail marking still requires some work apparently. One trail was invaded by snowmobiles but it is hoped this was an isolated incident. Cross Country skiing appears to be here to stay and Haliburton is in an excellent position to capitalize on it providing we continue to develop and maintain trails for this purpose.

The Haliburton club is running a day of instruction at Camp Kandalore on Saturday, January 8th for members at only $10.00 per person including equipment rental.

Once again we would like to remind you that Jayne Northgrave, our Manpower counsellor will be in Wilberforce Community Centre Tuesdays, Stanhope Library Wednesdays, and Minden Courthouse Thursdays, each week from 10:00 A.M. to 12 noon. She wishes to talk to employees as well as those seeking work. She can explain many programmes that can help employers provide more jobs. The federal government now has a programme similar to the L.I.P. that is intended to provide work for students this summer. Organizations who feel they may be able to make use of this programme may obtain application forms from the Manpower office.

Snowmobile crashes injure 4

Four persons were injured and damages totalled close to $600 in four separate snowmobiling accidents during the past two weeks.

Just before Christmas snowmobiler Frederick W. Palmer, 23, of Scarborough was taken to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay with cuts and bruises after his machine struck a piece of ice and threw him off while westbound on the Clear Lake Road.

The sled ended up in the north ditch with $400 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Ron Buchanan.

Police and an ambulance had to travel more than 18 miles of bush roads southeast of Dorset to haul out injured snowmobiler Peter J. Killaby, 48, of Mississauga after his machine went off the Sherborne Trail near Dorset last Thursday evening.

According to police Mr. Killaby suffered a fractured left leg when he caught his foot in the seat's backrest as he fell off his machine on one side of a tree, the snow machine passing the tree on the opposite side.

After splinting Mr. Killaby's leg, members of his party waited until daylight to trek out to the nearest phone and call for help.

Damage to the snowmobile amounted to only $25.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Boyd Jarvis.

A 44-year-old Toronto man is in Queensway Hospital in Toronto with severe facial lacerations after his snowmobile sideswiped a friend's car on a private driveway in Stanhope Township last Thursday evening.

According to police car driver Herbert Cherry, 58, of Toronto stopped when he saw the snow sled but didn't realize the two vehicles had collided until he saw sled driver Arthur Carruthers, age 58, crawling down the road on his hands and knees.

Damages totalled $50.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bob Pearson.

A 13-year-old Willowdale girl, Michele Pelyhe had her leg broken when the 11-year-old driver of the snowmobile on which she was a passenger mistook the throttle for the brake.

According to police Mark Dunbar of Don Mills had just started up the snow vehicle in the parking area of Haliburton Forest and Wildlife when he mistook the controls and grabbed the throttle instead of the brake, sending the sled into a parked truck.

The Pelyhe girl was taken to Haliburton Red Cross Hospital for preliminary treatment.

Damage to the snowmobile totalled some $100.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Ron Buchanan.

How to Keep on the Move Through Ice and Snow

*Winter is ice, snowdrifts, blizzards and corrosive road salts — a challenge to car owner and driver. As an aid to drivers, Ford of Canada has produced a report on ways to lessen winter driving strain, reduce wear on the car, improve the safety factor, and save drivers some money too. Information and driving guidelines are based on tests of drivers and cars operating under winter conditions, carried out by safety councils and others, and on data produced by safety councils, automobile associations, insurance companies and various provincial transportation departments. This is the first of a four-part-series — Your Guide to Winter Driving.

Take time — just a few extra minutes — and it will pay off in savings and greater safety as you drive your car through the cold, salt, ice and snow of winter, says a report on winter driving from Ford of Canada.

Even before you drive off, you can benefit by putting time on your side.

When you start the car's engine, let it warm up for a few minutes. This is particularly important in long periods of below-freezing weather — it will help prevent stalling when the transmission is engaged, and it will save fuel and engine wear by getting engine oil circulating and doing its job. (But don't overdo it. It's not a good idea to start the engine and leave it running at high-idle speed for more than 10 minutes.)

As the engine warms up, check for any buildups of snow or frozen slush in the fender wells of the car — these could restrict the wheels from turning properly. Ideally, it would be best to knock out such buildups at the end of each driving day, before they freeze solidly.

And before moving off, use your heater control equipment to move hot air onto the windshield, to defrost or de-fog it. Even if it doesn't seem to need it, make warming the windshield a priority; once you drive away, you may need to use your windshield washer solution on the outside, but the fluid may freeze should it hit a cold windshield.

Keep all windows and car lights free of snow, ice and dirt; sweep snow from hood so that it won't blow back to the windshield when you drive. Use your car lights freely in winter, well before dark; they may not help you see better but they will let other drivers see you much more easily.

EASY AND SLOW

If you are driving out a driveway following a snowfall, or if the pavement is icy, it may be difficult to control the car. The rule is, easy and slow.

Many drivers, especially when they are parked on a snowy street or lot, experience trouble before they get moving. Tires may fail to find traction on an icy patch, in hard-packed or deep snow. If you are trying to move from such a spot, don't depress the gas pedal and 'gun' the motor; that may work once in awhile but more often it will not. Too much motor effort will make wheels spin, may turn snow into ice, or dig you deeper into a rut. Instead, try moving off slowly (in second gear, if you have a manual transmission); tires will grip an icy surface more effectively when the engine is providing gentle power. In snow, you may sometimes find it effective to 'rock' the car, back and forth, to obtain traction. (However, it can harm the transmission if done carelessly, so do it only when essential). In deep snow conditions, try to leave a generous space in front of your car when you park it. Before driving, turn your front wheels a few times to clear a space but have the wheels straight, if possible, when you try to drive off.

Unthinkable

Recently Haliburton County Council added its voice to that of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce in protesting a decision by the Ministry of Industry and Tourism to replace the roadside signs identifying the Highlands of Haliburton with travel area signs extolling Central Ontario.

Any such attempt to obliterate our local identity should be fought in every way possible.

This is particularly true in the case of a municipality such as our county where the primary source of income is tourism.

Besides, the 'Highlands of Haliburton' has a sort of lifting, intriguing ring to it, in itself an attraction to tourists.

Of course, this is not the first time the province has proposed a sign change such as this and one gets the feeling that they'll just keep on trying every year or so in hopes of catching us off guard and slipping it by us.

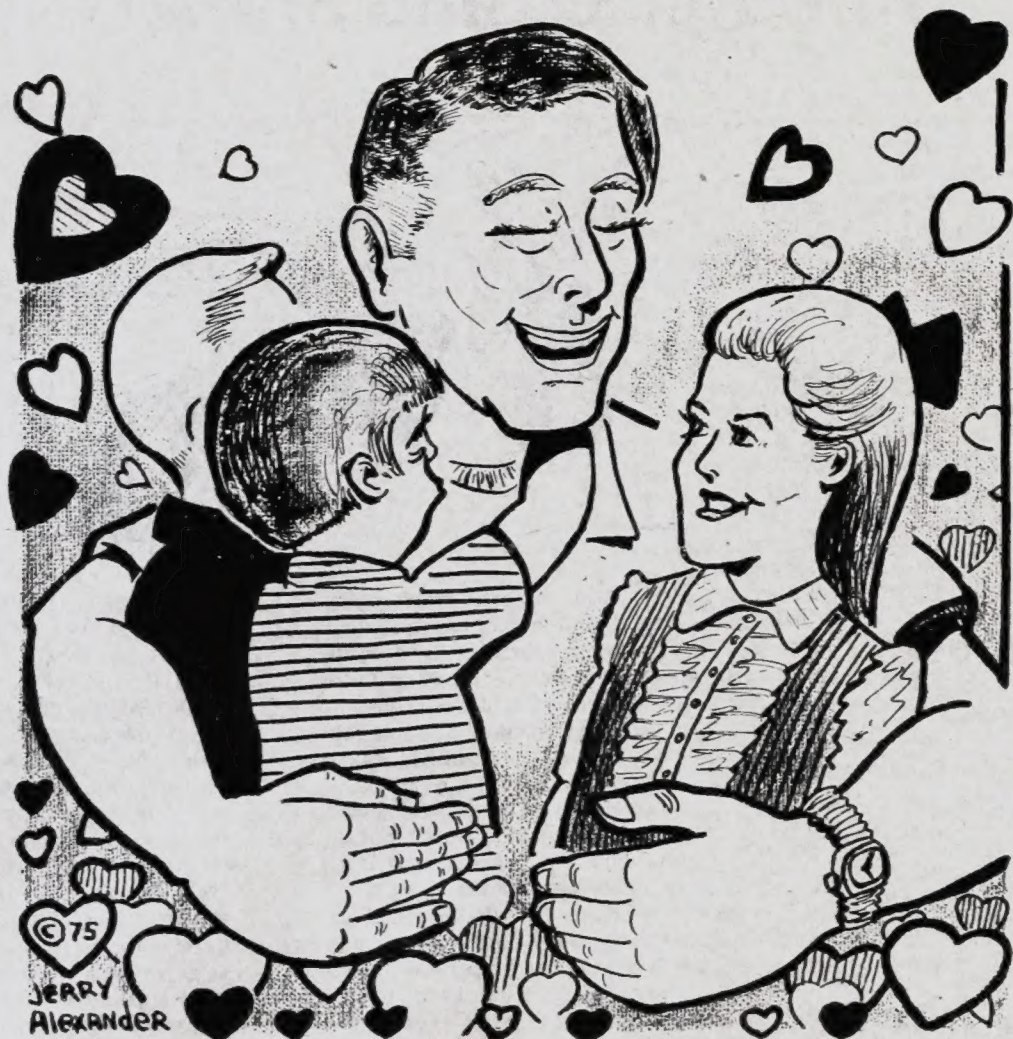

County Council and the Chamber of Commerce are both to be commended on their vigilance in this matter.

Now, let all individuals, businesses and organizations right across the county give County Council and the Chamber our all-out, articulate support for their stand in this matter.

So, write letters to anyone and everyone you feel could be of help and, if you like, send copies of those letters to the Progress for re-printing.

We must preserve our local identity; anything else is unthinkable and totally unacceptable.

MINDEN PARENTS, HAVE YOU HUGGED THEM TODAY?

Carefree

The recent holiday season saw a number of snowmobiling accidents in the Highlands in which riders were hurt, some rather seriously.

Vacations may be a time of carefree abandon but this attitude should not extend to the operation of snowmobiles any more than to car driving.

In virtually all of the snowmobiling collisions reported careless operation of snowmobiles played an important role.

In one such incident the operator was an 11-year-old child who became confused with the controls.

If he wasn't careless, then how about his parents or guardian?

How carefree can you get!

Report from Queen's Park

John Eakins, M.P.P.

Winding up the Budget Debate, in the closing hours of this session of the Ontario Legislature, Premier Davis announced that the government is planning to extend the rent review program, to provide some continuing form of tenant protection after next July, when the current program, requiring landlords to obtain government permission for rent increases beyond 8%, expires. The Premier was not specific about the type of legislation to be introduced but stated that tenant protection is necessary "as long as we have anti-inflation regulations". Among possibilities being considered is legislation similar to that in Quebec, where tenants can seek a hearing if they consider a rent increase is too high; controls are removed from an apartment when a current tenant moves elsewhere and retained only in cities where apartment shortages are so acute that supply and demand cannot regulate prices.

There has been considerable discussion of the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Board, under review by the provincial standing committee on resource development. The Chairman of the Board maintained that Ontario faces substantial economic risks if the costs of compensation to injured workers continue to rise, while NDP and Liberal Members accused the Board of failing to meet the needs of people injured or incapacitated in the course of their work. Hugh O'Neil, Liberal MPP for Quinte, told the Committee that his office is flooded with requests for help in dealing with the Board, from people who are worried about money to buy food, meet mortgage and rent payments and other essential financial commitments. He said "it appears to me that appeal tribunal hearings are conducted in such a way that the workman is dealt with more in a manner of a defendant in a trial rather than as a person who has sustained injury on the job...at these hearings, the workman and his representative are pitted against three seasoned commissioners of the board." He suggested it would be more humane and just, and would probably save administration costs, to scrap the "antiquated and time-consuming" present appeals system and replace it with one geared to providing claimants with a speedy, fair and sympathetic assessment of claims "in an environment free of the intimidating atmosphere that at present exists."

Legislation to protect occupational health and safety rights of workers in Ontario has been given final reading in the Legislature. The bill gives employees the right to refuse work which they believe to be unsafe or which they believe will endanger fellow employees, without fear of reprisal by employers, and gives the Minister of Labour authority to demand health and safety committees be established in workplaces. Labour groups welcomed the legislation, but said it did not go far enough. Meanwhile spokesmen for employers feared abuse of the legislation would lead to work stoppages and shut-downs.

Some 25 community-based programs for treatment of the mentally-ill have been given grants by the provincial government, totalling $282,407, to cover costs for the remainder of the fiscal year. The Minister of Health said two short-term studies are to be completed within the next few months and a third will receive limited financing in the following year. The other programs will be supported by grants totalling $693,967 a year for the next two years. He said that during the past ten years the number of mentally-ill patients in provincial hospitals has been reduced by more than 8,000.

The Minister of Transportation and Communications has announced that four cities are to take part in a transit experiment involving articulated buses. These vehicles will be tested in rush hour traffic in Hamilton, Mississauga, Toronto and Ottawa, commencing in 1978. The experiment will cost some $3.3 million in net capital expenditure over a three year period. However, the use of the articulated vehicles - common in Europe but unknown in North America - could save the province about $4 million a year if put into regular operation.

See you next week.

Financing new ventures

By KENNETH McDONALD

If free competitive enterprise is to survive in Canada, the disappearance of smaller firms must be more than made up for by the growth of successful ones and the formation of new ventures. Both processes need risk capital.

There are two kinds of capital: debt and equity. Debt capital is a loan secured by fixed assets — a building or machinery. Equity capital is the owner's permanent investment in a business. When a handyman starts up, using savings to buy tools, that constitutes his equity. If he borrows to finance his truck, that is debt capital.

Another man decides to start a retail business. He uses his savings to draw up a business plan — surveying the market, looking for premises, talking to suppliers, estimating costs and profit. He is making an initial equity investment!

Now he needs additional equity to pay rent on the premises, to buy stock, to pay wages and operating costs until the business generates a flow of cash. When taxes were low and people could accumulate savings, he would have looked to local investors for this kind of seed money. Their return might have been a share of ownership in the venture. Their risk capital supplemented the proprietor's own personal investment.

But local capital has either been taxed away or diverted into government pension or retirement schemes. The retailer now has to go to his bank. But banks are in the business of lending money against the collateral of fixed assets, accounts receivable, or personal assets. They are lending depositors' funds and cannot therefore take unsecured risks.

To overcome the difficulty of financing new ventures, risk capital must be made more readily available. Ottawa must take the lead with tax incentives to individuals, businessmen and financial institutions. To increase availability of long-term loans, the Canadian Federation of Independent Business has recommended an aggressive program of federally-guaranteed loans administered by the chartered banks.

Raising debt and equity capital, in small amounts, is a worldwide problem for small business. But unless we tackle it imaginatively in Canada we will never strengthen our rural and regional communities.

The Canadian Federation of Independent Business®

In a way, it's a call for the inevitable. An approach to the environment we'll all have to face — sooner or later.

Canadians continue their saving ways

Canadians are saving, literally by the millions!

There now are almost 22 million personal savings accounts at the chartered banks, containing well over $36 billion.

The Canadian Bankers' Association (CBA) says the average savings deposit at the banks now is $1,662, up from $1,559 a year earlier and more than double the $774 of 10 years ago.

The CBA also notes that a large portion of these accounts—more than 8.5 million or about 40 per cent—contain less than $100. And 15.3 million, or 70 per cent, have less than $1,000.

The average personal savings deposit at the chartered banks has grown to $1,662 from $1,087 in 1971.

These figures, the CBA says, point to the importance of the individual as a source of funds for the economy and the broad-based public acceptance of the chartered banks as the country's principal savings institutions.

Both in number and amount, personal savings continue to be the largest single source of funds available to the banks.

During the past 10 years there has been a decline in the percentage of accounts having less than $100. Accounts in the $100 to $1,000 range have remained relatively unchanged. Those containing $1,000 to $10,000 have shown a noticeable increase.

Keeping it clean

Jobs and the environment

The air-conditioning industry is big business.

Air-conditioned homes, cars and offices are the rule, not the exception.

The manufacture of equipment to provide cool air has become a major source of profits, dividends and jobs.

And no one calls the industry non-productive.

But, when a new industry develops to manufacture, operate and maintain the machinery to produce CLEAN air, some businessmen call that industry non-productive.

This, despite its offer of investment opportunities, profits and jobs.

The technology to monitor and control all types of environmental contamination is centred in a multi-million-dollar industry which will expand in the years ahead as public concern for environmental quality is increasingly supported with action from government and industry.

And while many businessmen recognize the scope of the pollution control industry, too often these corporate spokesmen point to what they call a conflict between environmental control and jobs — to the notion that business cannot afford environmental investment.

It's the same argument that was used when the minimum wage was introduced, even as far back as the time child labor was eliminated.

But, as Environment Minister George Kerr has repeatedly said, the notion that environmental concern is not compatible with economic growth is just nonsense.

He is saying that, into a discussion of environmental regulations and their affect on the economic community, must come an understanding that the viability of the general region in which workers live is as important as any consideration.

He's calling for a recognition that we have little future if we continue to abuse and degrade our environment to a point where it can no longer support us.

CANADA CHOICE Tomatoes Can Make the Meal

Food specialists at the Ontario Food Council, Ministry of Agriculture and Food, recommend that you look for the words CANADA CHOICE when you buy canned tomatoes.

CANADA CHOICE is not a brand name. It is a grade name. So pick out a brand you may wish to buy, then look for the words CANADA CHOICE. They should be there, somewhere on the label, in smaller print. If they are not, if the label just says Choice grade, chances are these canned tomatoes are imported from other countries.

The reason CANADA CHOICE tomatoes are so good is that the fresh tomato is left on the vine until it is just ripe, then rushed to the processing plant. The liquid in canned tomatoes is not water. It is pure tomato juice.

So, next time you shop look for the smaller words CANADA CHOICE on the label then prepare these recipes. If you don't want to make the recipes, just eat the tomatoes and drink the juice. They are good ... hot or cold!

Chunky Tomato and Ham Stew (makes 6 cups)

Every effort is to be made to complete additions to water system, and more particularly to have water tower installed. Council will continue to co-operate with the Ministry of Transportation and Communications and the Ministry of the Environment to get the sewerage project completed satisfactory to all concerned and expects to complete work on Sunnybrook bridge in the spring.

Gained a few pounds over the festive season?

NOW is the time to attack those pounds that stare you in the face every time you stand on the scale or in front of a mirror. It's always easier to get them off quickly and if you leave it too long, you may get used to them and start feeling comfortable with the extra inches.

Dieting is a big business in North America, and we've heard everything from the grapefruit and egg diet, the water diet, the drinking man's diet and, most recently, the total fast. All will work to some extent if followed faithfully, but then so will most diets that reduce the total daily calorie intake below expenditure.

Most doctors and nutritionists are agreed, however, that a simple diet which includes sensible portions of the four main food groups is the healthiest and safest way to reduce, and a weekly loss of two pounds is, for most people, the ideal goal.

Kay Spicer, consultant home economist for Edam and Gouda cheeses from Holland, suggests this simple meal as a variation on the standard broiled fish or chicken and salad combinations.

On Track!

This year's Minden Winter Carnival promises to be the best ever, and to make sure it is, Minden's Kinsmen are currently constructing the car race track shown above. Promised are two days of car racing on ice with fifteen races each day, some races with studded tires and others without. The drivers will pick up valuable points for their efforts, as the races will be sanctioned by the Peterborough Motor Sports Club. According to Tom Prentice organizer of the event, the Kinsmen expect between 60 and 70 cars from all parts of Ontario to compete in what will be a part of the Ontario sports car racing circuit.

Construction of the above track started some two weeks ago and now that it is bulldozed of all brush, a good freeze is needed to build the ice surface to a depth of six inches. Water will be pumped from the Gull River if necessary.

About the Town

with Jeanne Sears

Congratulations to Wendy Kinsman who was the winner of a trip to Nassau from Home Hardware.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson and family of Scarboro spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright.

At the weekly Mini Card Party at the Parish Hall Dec 23rd winners were for bridge Florence Cooper, for cribbage Bill Bennett (perfect score) and Mary Maidens and for euchre Harry MacMinn and Jeanne Sears and lone hands Alice Clark. Then winners on Dec. 30 were for bridge Doris McManus, for cribbage Jeanne Sears (perfect score) and Dora Dawson and for euchre, high and lone hands Harry Cowan and Audrey Wilkinson. These Mini Card Parties are Thursday afternoons and start at 1:30 with everyone welcome.

Sunday Morning Dec 26th there was Family Service at Minden United Church with Lloyd Johnson giving the message. The Church was crowded and there were several four and three generations families present.

There will be a meeting at St Paul's Anglican Parish Hall at 8 on Jan 6, with Goal to form an Auxiliary. All Beaver, Cub, Scout and Venturers Mothers are invited to attend.

Ice Fishing Season opened on the first of this month, be sure that the ice is safe before venturing out on it. Many of our lakes have many huts for shelter so sportsment may enjoy their favourite sport.

It is hoped that people having outside lighting for the holiday season will leave these up so that they can be shown again at Carnival Weekend Jan 29th weekend.

Most families had very pleasant holidays with friends and relatives visiting them, from near and far; now we settle down to Jan with some snow predicted, hope it is now as cold as Dec was. Anyway take care whatever your vehicle.

If you didn't make any New year's Resolutions, join me in mine

A little less impatient with those we deem too slow;
A little less of arrogance because of all we know;
A little more humility, seeing our worth is slight;
We are such trivial candles compared to stars at night!
A little more forgiving and swifter to be kind;
A little more desirous the word of praise to find;
The word of praise to utter and make a heart rejoice—
A little bit more careful to speak with gentle voice.
A little more true eagerness to understand each other;
A little more real striving to help a shipwrecked brother;
A little more high courage for that which must be done;
These be our resolutions—and
God help us every one!

Bible Advocate

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Cecil Harrison and William Jenkinson who died recently.

Hint of the week—When cutting bread, give the loaf a quarter turn after each slice, might keep loaf edge even.

A Sincere welcome to Rev. and Mrs. Miller who have come to our village to the United Church Charges of Minden, Carnarvon and Maple Lake.

All her friends send good wishes to Mrs. Stewart Dawson who is a patient at Civic Hospital Peterborough and to Mrs. J. Fairfield who is seriously ill at Hyland Crest.

Do you think this is true? Consider the wonders of the human brain. It works until you get up to speak in public.

Cheerio until next time.

The restoration of historical buildings, the construction of a fire hall, the replacement of an outdated water system. If you stop and think about it there are probably many good projects that could create jobs and be of great benefit to your community.

This year, a new job creation program called Canada Works will help fight unemployment by providing funds to groups and organizations including private businesses, for worthwhile community projects.

If you have a project that can provide a minimum of five jobs for unemployed people in your area, submit your application to Canada Works.

But do it now. The deadline for applications is February 4th.

Right now, your Canada Manpower Centre has application forms and a Canada Works "Guide to Applicants" that describes the program and how to apply.

Visit your Canada Manpower Centre today.
Canada Works: Make it work in your community.

This summer Young Canada Works will help reduce student unemployment by creating jobs in your community. The students will work on projects of community benefit that will enable them to test their career aspirations.

Any established organization can submit an application to Young Canada Works.

Your proposal should provide a minimum of three student jobs for six consecutive weeks. Projects can operate for up to 14 weeks between May and September. Your local CMC has a Young Canada Works "Guide" and application form.

Submit your application now. The deadline for Young Canada Works is February 4th.

$11,000 damages in 11 crashes

Just one person was injured in a series of eight separate highway crashes during the past two weeks in which damage totalled more than $11,000. Police charged three drivers.

On the Old Bobcaygeon Road a car driven by Stephen Davies, 17, of RR 1, Minden, failed to negotiate a curve, left the road and struck a tree, causing some $2,000 damage to the car.

A passenger in the Davies car, Craig Barry, 17, of Minden, suffered cuts and bruises.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Roy Telford.

Brian C. Edwards, 31, of RR 2, Haliburton, has been charged by police with failing to yield from a driveway after he attempted to enter County Road 2 and struck a car driven by Patricia Burk, 52, of Lochlin. The Burk car received $1,000 damage while the Edwards pick-up sustained $800 damage.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Al Rollins.

Christopher Coneybeare, 17, of Minden was charged by police with making an unsafe left turn when while northbound on Bobcaygeon Road his car slid into the side of a car driven by Mary Maidens, 56, of Minden.

The Maidens' car received $200 damage while the Coneybeare car was damaged to the tune of $25.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bob Wood.

Stephen Smalridge, 22, of Whitby has been charged by police with failing to share the roadway, after the car he was driving came over the crest of a hill on Kushog Lake Road and hit a car driven by Paul R. Bethune, 18, of Ancaster.

The Bethune car was damaged to the amount of $1,200 while the Smalridge car sustained $800 in damages.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bill Clendenning.

Driver Willis J. Casselman, 41, of Maynooth and Donald M. Powers, 54, of Whitby met head-on on a curve on Harcourt Park Road last Thursday afternoon causing some $675 dollars damage to their two vehicles.

There were no injuries or charges.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bill Clendenning. Last Sunday afternoon Tad-eusz Grodziszewski, 65, of Toronto, was southbound on Highway 35, south of Minden, when he lost control of his car which entered the west ditch and rolled onto its left side.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,000.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Jim Martin.

Last Friday Barbara A. Jensen, 39, of Toronto, was eastbound on County Road 1, when her car entered the south ditch and hit a rock cut. Damage to the 1977 car was estimated at $3,000.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bob Pearson.

And for Cecil B. Winter, 43, of Haliburton, New Year's Day was not the best he has known, as he was westbound on Highway 121 east of Haliburton when his truck went onto the north shoulder, then skidded into the south ditch and rolled over.

Damage to the pick-up truck was estimated at $400.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Jim Solway.

M.T.C. action unlikely in Hawk Lake culvert collapse

The Minister of Transportation & Communications apparently has no intention of acting on the recommendations of the coroner's jury which was established following the Hawk Lake culvert collapse last spring according to a recent news release from John Eakins, M.P.P., Victoria-Haliburton. Mr. Eakins questioned the Minister in the House:

Mr. Eakins: Mr. Speaker, to the Minister of Transportation & Communications. Mr. Minister, what action have you taken, or what is your reaction to the recommendations of the jury established at the coroner's inquest into the Hawk Lake culvert collapse last spring in Haliburton County in which three people lost their lives?

Hon. Mr. Snow: Mr. Speaker, it's some time since I believe we did receive a copy of that jury report. But as I recall the details, that particular project was certainly not a project carried on by my Ministry or by a road authority, as I recall it. I would have no jurisdiction over it.

Mr. Eakins: Supplementary, my question was, what is your reaction in regard to the (jury) recommendations? They know that you had no jurisdiction, but their recommendation was that your Ministry implement a code to regulate the building of any such structure not presently supervised by MTC or other regulatory body. What action have you taken or what do you plan to do?

Hon. Mr. Snow: Mr. Speaker, I have not taken any specific action on that recommendation because I don't believe there is any way that my Ministry could create a code that would involve the limitations to structures built outside of our jurisdictions.

Mr. Eakins said he will pursue the recommendations through other Ministries in the hope that some interest may be shown.

Along The Trails

Good Turnout for Clubhouse Opening
The day did not go exactly as planned but was considered a success anyway. HCSA members began to arrive at the clubhouse before noon, riding in from every direction or transporting their sleds on trucks or trailers. All were anxious to try out the local trails.

After a round of drinks-coffee from the new 30 cup percolator donated by Harvey Clarke - sandwiches and other goodies provided by some of the ladies, a safari of nineteen machines took off for the ride. Destination, the nearest gas pumps. Some of the machines had already been driven quite some distance and were running low. Unfortunately the Marina at Koshlong was closed that day so it was necessary to route the trip by way of Shamrock Shell at Haliburton.

A highlight of the ride was a little game of 'follow the leader' through the meandering new trail system cleared by Bill and Keith Foote and Lorne Bailey in the woods between Grass Lake and Kashagawigamog. The return journey included the Tom Cowen trail and the popular Tractor Road.

There were a few tense moments when a huge white horse jumped onto the track immediately in front of Rick Sullivan's sled. Skilful manoeuvring avoided a collision but for Rick and the riders following him it was a frightening experience.

It was unfortunate that many of the members found it necessary to head home early. Those who were able to stay enjoyed a delicious dinner of boston baked beans, chili, and hot dogs served from the propane range donated by Grattan Woodcock. The baked beans and chili were contributed by Marni Foote.

The HCSA directors wish to express their sincere gratitude to all those who have contributed useful items to the clubhouse and to the members who helped make the opening a successful event. We hope there will be many occasions to enjoy the facilities this winter.

Federation Meeting at PineStone Inn

The Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs will hold its January directors meeting at Pine Stone Inn, Haliburton, on the weekend of January 8th and 9th. To give members of all local clubs and other interested snowmobilers an opportunity to meet the people who are working for their interests at provincial level, a portion of the meeting will be open to the public. This open session will run from 3 to 5 p.m. on Saturday afternoon. The O.F.S.C. invites your questions on the Driver Training Program, on legislation, or any matter of concern to snowmobilers.

It is our hope that the directors will find time Saturday evening to enjoy a short ride on Haliburton trails. We also hope that our grooming program will be in operation by then. And that you will help us extend to the Federation a full measure of Haliburton hospitality.

Paudash Trail Blazers

Hi Fellow Snowmobilers:

Well we had quite a day opening up a new trail to Maple Lake. There were eight members of the club and a visitor from the Haliburton Club. Our sincere thanks to Arnold Schroeter who came over to give us a hand. He is a director of the Haliburton Club. We started out and got to the area on the West Lake Road about ten a.m. and we finished at 4:30 p.m. A short break for lunch was held around an open fire. The ride out on the back of a truck was somewhat of a thrill, with the high and low spots in the road, which meant we were in the air half the time. A ruptured exhaust system on one of the trucks was the highlight of the trip out of the bush. Sorry fellow, you'll just have to slow down on these unnumbered highways. Fortunately it can be repaired with a new clamp. I hope it isn't too cold in the morning as the snow is so cool to lie on and hard. All in all we had a good day and many thanks to those members who did come out and help.

One man who deserves a pat on the back is our president

Bill Ackerman. He is out there working on trails he probably won't get the privilege to ride on. He does not have a snowmobile; Bill has a back problem and riding a snowmobile could be a disaster for him, so our hats are off to you, Bill.

A lot of time and effort has been expended by our Trail Captain, Mac Peters, and I'm sure because of this we will enjoy some good snowmobiling this winter.

We are having thoughts about expanding this newsletter to a larger monthly bulletin with the possibility of space for advertisers. We are still looking for members and it is hoped that more of the local tourist businesses would become members and help our cause, as we feel we are going to promote the area as an all year round resort area. So far, we have only seven businesses in the Bancroft and Paudash Lake area supporting our Club.

We haven't heard anything from the Ministry of Natural Resources about the requirements of trails and insurance. The "Right of Way" forms are not available and the insurance requirements are not known. Our insurance will be due on January 15/77 and if we maintain the same coverage it will cost $170.00.

The maps for the clubhouse have been obtained from the Natural Resources at a cost of $14.45. The costs of typing and printing and postage have been born by The Homestead Tent and Trailer Park. We have 63 now on our mailing list and as soon as winter comes and more people are around, we will be adding to this list. From the foregoing you can see that we as a club have many expenses and as with any organization we can only survive if we have paid up members.

We have a number of pamphlets about local Natural Resources trails. These are available at the Paudash Lake Marina, The Homestead or the Ministry of Natural Resources at Bancroft. We will be preparing a trail map of our area which will show our marked trails plus our proposed trails. These should be available shortly to our members.

If anyone on the mailing list is not interested in receiving this newsletter, please let us know.

Farm News'n Views

FROM THE LINDSAY AGRICULTURAL OFFICE

IT'S ANNUAL MEETING TIME

During the next couple of months many farm organizations will be holding their annual Meetings.

An annual meeting is a vital part of the year's program for any democratic organization, for this meeting provides the members with an opportunity to express themselves. This expression can be in two important ways.

First of all, during the annual meeting, reports are given on the activities of the past year, and members have a chance to discuss their wishes for the coming year's events.

In some organizations, the annual meeting is the only one normally held for members to attend—the rest of the year the board of directors handle the business. Thus, it is important for members to attend this annual meeting to express themselves on current issues.

All organizations consider the ideas expressed at their annual meeting as a guide to their program plans for the coming year.

The second way members can express themselves at the annual meeting, is through the election of officers and directors. If, as a member, you are not satisfied with the performance of the current board of directors, then use your ability to nominate and vote, to try to make changes in personnel.

We periodically have farm people discuss with us their dissatisfaction with the activities or policies of a farm organization to which they belong. If you have concerns about current issues then be sure to attend the annual meeting of your organization — discuss your concerns and support people who share these concerns during the election.

Most farm organizations have provincial associations to which the local and County groups belong. Remember that the policies and programs of these provincial associations depend on the input from their County member groups—so things discussed at the local meetings are vital to the total organization.

Don't miss the annual meeting of the farm organizations to which you belong.

The post-controls era: Move now

The wage and price control program is merely a stop-gap measure in the battle against inflation and the real test of our mettle will come when it is dropped.

The Federation, moving on two fronts, is urging businessmen, politicians and civil servants to take the time now to prepare for the kind of economy that Canada must have to survive and prosper in the post-controls period, scheduled for 1978.

It is time we recognized that we have been living in a society based on cheap and freely available energy; on over-dependence on the export of our non-renewable, natural resources; on extensive reliance on foreign capital inflows to offset our trade imbalances; on recurrent investments in large, capital-intensive projects; and on continued, rapid economic growth.

Warning signs of an impending breakdown are evident everywhere: still-present inflation, high unemployment, energy shortages, growing regional disparities, labour unrest, our decreasing competitiveness internationally and our escalating capital shortages.

The need for bigness has been over-emphasized in our economy. The Federation believes that a post-controls strategy should emphasize smaller, owner-managed firms since small and medium-sized enterprises will be best able to respond quickly and effectively to the dramatic crises that lie ahead.

We need to build an economy increasingly characterized by more smaller-scale technology. It should include knowledge-intensive, differentiated manufacturing; new rural industry; more independent retailing; more decentralization of government; and more small firms consortia. That is, we need a greater dispersion of workplaces and points of distribution.

To help achieve these goals the Federation is initially working on two fronts: On a comprehensive, international study of small business and on a consensus project to gain input on the role of small firms in Canada.

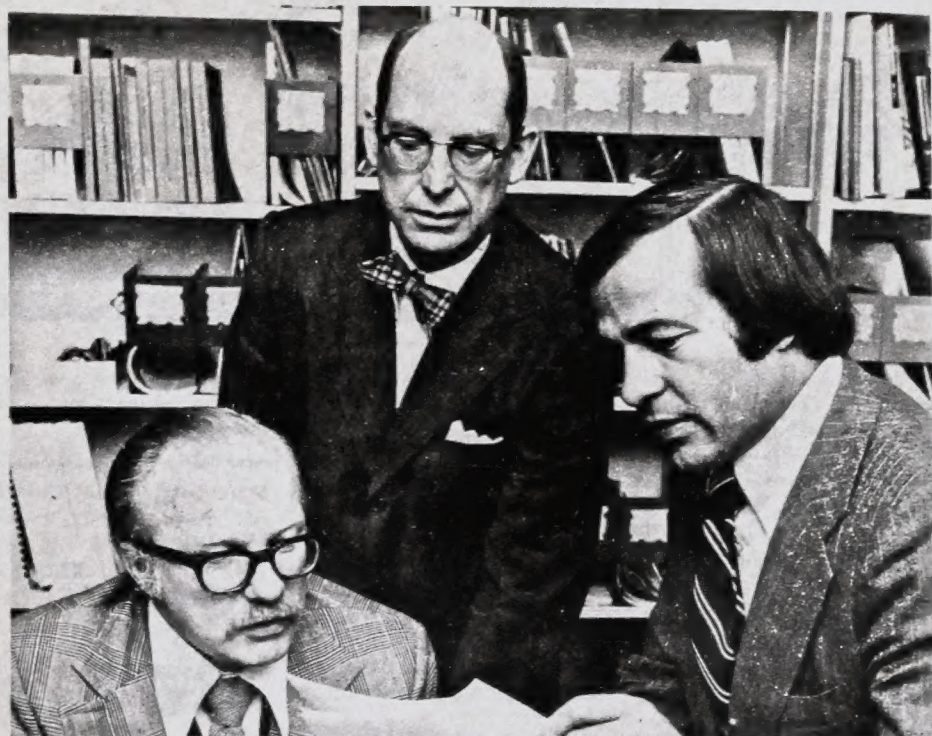

In April the Board of Directors commissioned Dr. Rein Peterson, of the Faculty of Administrative Studies, York University, Toronto, to prepare a study on the legislative and other initiatives that must be taken to build a new economy. Dr. Peterson will study the successful small firms sectors in countries such as Japan, West Germany, the U.S. and Sweden, with the intent of proposing the adoption of similar programs in Canada.

These proposals would include such areas as: government purchases from small firms, guaranteed term-loan financing, consortia, manpower training-apprenticeships, technology transfer-innovation, incentives to work and the development of more profitable, owner-managed firms.

The Federation, to complement Dr. Peterson's project, is circulating the document: Towards A Consensus On A Small Firms Policy For Canada. The consensus process is an attempt to seek out and incorporate feedback and suggestions from owner-managers, provincial and federal civil servants, as well as elected officials, academics and other informed people on the role of small firms in Canada.

The consensus document proposes the following goal for a Small Firms Policy For Canada:

"To increase the rate of new business formation, the number of persons employed and the amount of Gross National Product produced in the owner-managed, small firms sector." Federation members can play a role.

Dr. Rein Peterson (left) goes over his research project with Dan Horgan, Federation legislative officer, and MP Otto Jelinek, PC small firms' critic.

too, in the consensus by sending us ideas and comments. Copies of the above document are available from the Federation upon request.

IN MEMORIAM

RICHARDSON - Amy Agnes who passed away Jan. 3, 1976.

One sad and lonely year has passed Since our great sorrow fell The shock that we received that day No one can ever tell God gave us the strength to meet it And courage to bear the blow But what it meant to lose you No one will ever know It's lonely here without you We miss you more each day For life is not the same to us Since you were called away You bade no one a last farewell Not even said Good-bye You were gone before we knew it And only God knows why It broke our hearts to lose you But you did not go alone For part of us went with you The day God called you home.

Sadly missed by husband Alfred, son Glen and Cathie and Grandchildren. 723-1p
